PUBLIC DEPARTMENT.

INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE COMPETITIVE EXAMINATION IN INDIA.

Part II. Group, November 15, 1922.

The following instructions are preliminary, and are subject to modification if this is found necessary.

Candidates may be admitted on application to the Chief Secretary of the Province wherein holds this important service.

A competitive examination for the Indian Civil Service will be held in Allahabad in the months of February and March 1923 or about that time.

Quota.—The London Civil Service Commissioners, who will conduct the examination, state as their opinion based on a wide experience of examinations for the public services that it is not possible to hold an examination of an important nature, in which the qualities and defects of each candidate must be individually studied and appreciated, satisfactorily, if the number of examinees exceeds 500. It is thought likely that the number of persons seeking to enter for the examination in India will seriously exceed 500, and the Commissioners have accordingly prepared a system under which provincial Committees will be formed to select from among duly qualified applicants 500 candidates for admission to the examination. This procedure has been accepted by the Secretary of State and the Government of India as the most suitable in the circumstances. The 500 examinees will be made up of quotas from the various provinces according to the following table:—

Azam	5	Madras and Coorg	35
Bengal	35	Punjab and North-West Frontier	15
Bihar and Orissa	25	Province of Delhi	15
Bombay	25	United Provinces and Aligarh	35
Burma	15	Moravia	15
Central Provinces	15

In each of the Governor's provinces the local Government will appoint a Quota Committee consisting of a majority of non-official members and adequate representation of minorities, which will choose from among the eligible candidates who have made application those to be admitted to the examination. The local Governments concerned will see to the proper representation of Coorg, the North-West Frontier Province, Delhi, and Aligarh-Moravia in the Quota Committee. The decision of the Quota Committee will be final.

Exemption.—A candidate is allowed to apply to one Quota Committee only, which must be the committee of the province in which his parents reside or resided or in which he has resided three years or more. Admission at a university as a student would not constitute residence for the purpose.

A candidate resident in Coorg must apply to the Madras Quota Committee, a candidate resident in the North-West Frontier Province or Delhi to the Punjab Committee, and a candidate resident in Aligarh-Moravia to the United Provinces Committee.

A candidate resident in an Indian State must apply through his Durbar to the Quota Committee of the province in which he wishes to serve.

The candidate must make application on the prescribed form, which along with this notice may be obtained from the Chief Secretary of any province. The completed Application Form must be sent to the Chief Secretary of the province in which the candidate's Quota Committee will sit in time to reach him on or before 10th December 1922. No applications received after that date can be considered.

Naturalization.—A candidate must be either a British subject or a minor or subject of any State in India in respect of whom the Governor-General in Council has made a declaration under section 20-A of the Government of India Act, 1919, as amended by section 4 of the Government of India (Amendment) Act, 1920.

If the candidate (being a British subject) or his father or his mother was not born within His Majesty's dominions and allegiance, the father must at the time of the candidate's birth have been a British subject or the subject of a State in India and still be (or have continued to be until his death), a British subject or a subject of such State.

Age.—A candidate must have attained the age of 21 and must not have attained the age of 33 on 1st August 1922.

Health.—A candidate must be free from disease, constitutional affection, or bodily infirmity rendering him or likely to render him unfit for the Indian Civil Service.

Character.—A candidate must be of good private character.

Degree.—A candidate must hold the Degree of B. A. or B. Sc. of a university incorporated by law in British India or of Mysore University, or the Indian Diploma of Mysore College, Ajmer.

Admission to examination.—For admission to the competitive examination a candidate must be verified by a State Commission as belonging to that State.

Writing.—Any attempt on the part of a candidate to solicit support for his application through persons of influence will disqualify him for appointment. Specimens of recommendations from persons who are not themselves acquainted with the candidate's work at school or at the university or otherwise, will be disregarded.

Fees.—A candidate will pay a fee of Rs. 5 with his application form and a candidate chosen for admission to the examination will pay a further local fee of Rs. 100.

Appointments.—As a result of this examination 3 appointments will be made, 2 in India and 1 in Burma. Only persons are eligible for the appointments in Burma, and they are not eligible for the appointments in India. Candidates must obtain such an aggregate of marks as to satisfy the Civil Service Commission.

Scheme of examinations.—The list of subjects and a syllabus of examination showing their range, is appended.

THE EXAMINATION.

From the marks assigned to candidates in each subject work deductions will be made at the Civil Service Commission any marks necessary in order to ensure that no credit is allowed for merely superficial knowledge.

In view of the importance of English handwriting in the public service, deductions which may be of considerable amount will be made from the marks of candidates whose handwriting is not easily legible.

In valuing the work of the candidates the Civil Service Commission will give credit for good English in all the 25 subjects of the examination, and not only in subjects 1 and 2 which are specially devoted to the language. Among the qualities of good English may be mentioned clarity, fluency and exact expression, combined with due economy of words.

SYLLABUS

1. Essay.—An essay to be written in English on one of several specified subjects.
2. English.—A paper of questions to test the understanding of English with the vernaculars as aids.
3. General.—Questions on contemporary subjects, social, economic and constitutional, mainly though not exclusively concerned with India. A liberal choice of questions will be given. Literature and literary aspects will be included.
4. Science.—Questions on general principles, methods and applications of science, including geography. In asking the questions the examinees will remember that the examinees are judged by birth and education. A liberal choice of questions will be given. Simple questions on the use of graphical methods may be included. Attention should be paid to orderly, effective and exact expression.
5. Prose.—A candidate may offer any one of the following languages:—Assamese, Bengali, Bhojpuri, Gujarati, Hindi, Marathi, Khasia, Malayalam, Marathi, Oriya, Punjabi, Pushto, Sindhi, Tamil, Telugu. The test will include translations from the vernacular, an composition in which an English passage is given to be put into the vernacular and free composition in which the candidate writes in the vernacular in his own words on a prescribed subject.
6. Paper I.—The examination will be in matters of general interest, such as matters of academic interest; it is intended to test the candidate's elementary intelligence and general outlook.
7. Language with History and Literature.—Subjects 7-14. History and Literature will, as far as possible, be taught in the vernacular. The questions on literature will require sufficient knowledge of the author; and the authors dealt with will be those which candidates ought to have read. Examples of literature may be set for comment on matters of social, political, legal or other historical importance.
8. Classical Language.—Translation, free composition and set composition in the classical language.
9. Classical History and Literature.—The main stress in both history and literature will be on the period from the middle of the 4th century A.D. to the middle of the 15th century A.D.
10. Classical Language.—Translation, free composition and set composition in the classical language.
11. Classical History and Literature.—The main stress in both history and literature will be on the period 1600 A.D. to 1800 A.D. Candidates will be expected to have a general knowledge of Persian before 1600 A.D. and from 1600 A.D. to the present day.
12. Classical Language.—Translation, free composition, set composition, questions in Urdu and Pashto grammar. Both Urdu and Pashto classical passages will be set for translation; composition will be required in classical Sanskrit verse. A knowledge of the Persian used in plays will be expected.
13. Classical Literature and Literature will include the history of the civilization and thought of India from the Vedic period to 1800 A.D.
14. Classical Language.—Translation, free composition, set composition.
15. Classical History and Literature will include the history of the civilization and thought of India from 1800 B.C. to 1800 A.D.
16. Classical Language.—Subjects 16-18. Candidates for any period should be prepared to show some practical knowledge of some of the works of the authors named below for the period and of their place in the history of their country. Questions may also be asked about other writers. Questions will not be set on the history of the language.
- Period 1. 1700-1750. Spenser, Shakespeare, Bacon, Milton, Galileo.
- Period 2. 1750-1800. Dryden, Bunyan, Swift, Addison, Defoe, Pope.
- Period 3. 1800-1850. Fielding, Johnson, Goldsmith, Burke, Sheridan, Scott, Wordsworth, Byron, Keats.
- Period 4. 1850-1914. Macaulay, Tennyson, Dickens, Thackeray, Carlyle, Ruskin, Thomas Hardy, H. G. Wells.
17. Indian History.—Period 1. Hindu India from the first Aryan immigration to the close of the 12th century; history and culture together with the history of Indian outside of India.
18. Indian History.—Period 2. Mohammedan India, from the beginning of the 13th century to 1707 (death of Aurangzeb); together with the subsequent history of the Muslim power outside of India, the Marathas, the Sikhs.
19. Indian History.—Period 3. India during the British period, from 1800 to the present day; together with the subsequent history of the British Empire.
20. European History.—The limits of Europe 1800 and 1914. Although a fixed date is given for the beginning of the period, candidates will be expected to know in general terms how the initial position was reached. The history of countries closely associated with Europe will be included as far as it helps European history, especially in relation to India.
21. British History.—The limits of time are 1800 and 1914. British History will be taken as a whole; politics, economics, and administration will be considered as mutually affecting each other, and all together as the outcome of the common life of the nation. Candidates will be expected to know as much of European history as will make the external action of the country fully intelligible and will explain those movements in British history which by their beginnings elsewhere, e.g. the Renaissance in the 15th century, and the revolution in the country of the French Revolution. From 1700 onwards for outstanding incidents and movements in the history of British possessions will assume more importance.
22. General Science.—General Science including industrial history with special reference to India. The subject will be treated as a whole, set questions should be prepared to illustrate the theory by the facts and to analyse the facts by the help of the theory. The history of economic thought will be included.
23. Public Economy.—The questions will deal with the main forms of State action, central and local, in the economic sphere, together with public economy.
24. Politics.—The subject will include political theory and political organization. Candidates will be expected to show a knowledge of political theory and its history, political theory being understood to mean not only the theory of legislation, but also the general history of

(a) There is extensive work, limited studies such as Jurisprudence, Public International Law and Economics. Questions involving illustrations from Indian history may be set.

Political system—rights will include Constitutional Forms (Representative Government, Federalism, etc.) and Public Administration, central and local. The history of institutions least included, but candidates will be expected to know the earlier stages from which existing institutions have already developed, and in this section also illustrations from Indian history may be expected.

21. Law—Criminal law, (preparation, equity, contracts, torts, elements, law of property with special reference to Transfer of Property Act, Hindu and Mohammedan law as administered in British India, Indian Evidence Act, Civil Procedure Code, Indian Penal Code, Criminal Procedure Code.

Mathematics—Subjects 22-25.—The examination will be designed to test understanding of the subject and ability to apply it rather than ability to reproduce proofs of propositions. No great skill in manipulation will be required.

Questions involving the use of mathematical instruments may be set at both stages.

22. Lower Mathematics—Logarithms; numerical equations; graphs; approximation; infinite series; complex numbers; solution of triangles.

Geometry—In two and three dimensions according to the method of Euclid. Analytical geometry in two dimensions (method of Descartes). The construction of plane, straight and circular and solid bodies (method of Monge).

Differential coefficients; maxima and minima; integrals; the application of the infinitesimal calculus to curves.

Trigonometry; harmonic motion; mensuration; survey; power. Equilibrium of rigid bodies in two dimensions; link polygons; virtual work. Simple machines, e.g., blocks, wheels, wedges, gears, levers, screws. Fluid pressure; expansion of a perfect gas; air pumps.

23. Higher Mathematics—Lower Mathematics together with:—

Uniform convergence; infinite products; exponential and trigonometric functions of a complex variable.

The elements of the geometry of numbers.

Taylor's series; partial differentials; area and volume of solids by integration; moments of inertia; the solution of differential equations involving elementary functions.

Centroids; simple cases of linked mechanisms. Equilibrium of forces in three dimensions; finding of focus; elementary treatment of potentials. The motion of rigid bodies in two dimensions; stability of floating.

24. Astronomy—Celestial coordinates. Astronomical instruments descriptively treated; method of using them and determining their principal errors. Civil time of the earth. The Solar System. Latitude and Longitude. Motion of the moon, simple calculations, eclipses. Planets. Nebulae, Asteroids. Comets and meteors.

Stellar maps and catalogues; the celestial sphere; the principal constellations. Descriptive dimensions of planets, moons, double stars, nebulae. The simplest processes of spectroscopy; estimation of abundances and of measurements made on photographic plates.

25. Statistics—The questions to be set will cover:—

(1) Elementary theory of statistics, not dependent mainly on the theory of probability nor requiring a knowledge of the calculus—frequency distributions, averages, percentiles, and simple methods of averaging dispersions; graphic methods; elementary treatment of qualitative data, e.g., correlation of attributes by comparison of ratios, tabulation of data; the practice of the simplest graphic and algebraic methods of interpretation.

(2) Practical methods used in the analysis and interpretation of statistics of prices, wages and incomes, trade transport, production and consumption, mortality, etc., the more elementary methods of dealing with population and vital statistics; miscellaneous methods used in leading statistics of experiments or observations.

(3) Elements of modern mathematical theory of statistics; frequency curves and the mathematical representation of groups generally; accuracy of sampling as a selection process; permutations, the standard deviation; significance of observed differences between averages of groups, etc.; the theory of correlation for two variables.

A candidate's choice of questions will be given, especially as to paragraph 3, and it will be possible for a candidate without advanced mathematical knowledge to obtain full marks by answering questions under paragraphs 1 and 2.

Second Division—Subjects 26-27. The standard of the higher division of a school will be that which is required in this case; subject for its known degree of the sciences. The standard for the lower division of a school will be that required in a subject subsidiary to the main subject whether required at the final degree examination or at a preceding examination.

26. Lower and Higher History—Vegetable Physiology will be included in each division.

27. Lower and Higher Geography—Mineralogy will be included in each division.

28. Geography, not including topics which concern geography jointly with other subjects such as meteorology, botany, physics, biology and geology. There will be a practical test which will require a knowledge of cartographical methods and notation, and for this test drawing instruments may be required.

(PROMISSORY NOTICE)

On the coming of the next meeting of the Board of Agriculture in India, an auction sale of the approved state of pedigree cattle of the Pusa herd will be held at Pusa on or about the 15th February 1922.

Particulars of the cattle available for sale can be had on application to the undersigned.

Pusa, 4th November 1921.

G. S. REENDERSON,
Imperial Agriculturalist.

SALE OF SANDALWOOD.

The following approximate quantities of cleaned sandalwood (bills, roots, chips and dust) will be put up to auction at the Treasury and Valuers' depots of the West and South Valuers divisions in the North Devon district (on the broad gauge railway) at 10 a.m. on the 2nd and 7th December 1921, respectively, by the concerned District Forest Officer:—

Valuers' depot about eighty (80) tons and Treasury depot about two hundred and forty (240) tons.

3. The sandalwood in each of the depots will be sorted and classified into the eighteen classes listed below and each class will be put up to auction separately in lots of five tons or less as convenient. Endeavour to the approximate quantities available under each item are also noted below. Facilities are offered to inspect the material, such lots put up for sale and they shall except the classification made in the depots on foot. No complaints of any kind will otherwise be admitted.

		8,472 tons.	12,700 tons.
		or 160 tons.	or 240 tons.

4. No person will be allowed to bid at the auction unless he furnishes an advance-money deposit of Rs. 1,000 (one thousand) at the time of sale (or such day or day as the sign "no more" in the sale notice is legally the equivalent) and the conditions contained in that notice. No person will however be allowed to deposit and bid jointly at the sale.

The deposit of advance-money will be returned to them at the conclusion of the sale.

5. The sales will be subject to confirmation by the Commissioner of Forests who does not bind himself to accept the highest or any bid. It is possible that the Commissioner of Forests will himself be present at the time of sale and the result of sale may, therefore, be announced on the spot.

6. Each purchaser shall, immediately after a lot is knocked down to him, sign his name at foot of the sale list in the witness book for the purpose. Such signatures shall be held as an admission on his part of having bought the lot.

7. Immediately after the sale, each purchaser, if his offer has been accepted by the Commissioner of Forests for that lot, will be furnished with a memorandum showing the total amount due by him and shall pay 25 per cent of the same down the auctioneer together with the balance, into any of the Government treasuries at Valuers or Treasury or remit it into the Imperial Bank of India, Madras, payable to the Accountant-General in Madras, before the 15th January 1922 and the balance before 15th March 1922 or before receipt of the sandalwood purchased from the depot previous whichever is earlier.

8. Should any purchaser fail to make the payment as indicated above on the due date, the sandalwood purchased by him will be resold at his risk, the advance deposit made by him forfeited, notwithstanding, and any loss arising by such resale recovered from him as if it were a resale at bid amount. Should however any profit arise by such resale, the officer shall not participate in it.

9. The purchaser must take delivery of the sandalwood before 15th March 1922, but he will not be allowed to remove any wood until payment has been made in full for the entire quantity of wood purchased. If delivery is not taken within the time allowed, a demurrage of Rs. 10 per day will be charged until such time as the wood is removed from the depot premises—this paragraph is subject to the following.

10. On purchasing the shales in the office in charge of the depot for the payment of sales of the sandalwood purchased by such woodcut, the wood will be weighed and it, in the depot, in the presence of the purchaser or his accredited agent by an officer of the department and before it is taken than that of a Forest Ranger. No further weighing or classification of the sandalwood will be taken by the Forest Department nor will purchase be allowed to draw any wood previous to weighing.
